

Irish Open Access Publishers (IOAP)

IOAP is an initiative founded by Irish libraries in 2021 to strengthen Diamond OA publishing in the region. It provides a community of practice primarily for library-based and institutional publishers, providing a forum for them to share knowledge and experience.

The IOAP also engages a wide variety of national and international open access agencies in this dialogue including funders, policy makers, academic institutions, libraries, open access organisations, student bodies, lecturers, researchers and students.

Learn more about this initiative

Revision #3

Created 2025-04-29 10:31:13 UTC by Kira Hopkins

Updated 2025-04-30 07:27:33 UTC by Anna Hughes